FROM THE PREFACE.

"Although this little work is chiefly addressed to young composers and organists, there are occasions when more experienced musicians may perhaps find it of some utility. Extemporaneous 'interludes,' for example, demand considerable self-possession, and the most skilful organist is liable, from indisposition and other causes, to accidents which could hardly occur if the means were before his eyes of instant extrication from any key to which he had wandered."

J. Alfred Novello, London and New York.

SECOND EDITION.—Price 1s.

NOVELLO'S SCHOOL ROUND-BOOK; a collection of Fifty Rounds and Catches, arranged according to their relative difficulty. Edited by the Rev. J. POWELL METCALFE. Also, a second set of Fifty Rounds, price 1s.; or the two sets bound in cloth, 2s. 6d.

No one, who, in instructing children in music, has employed both rounds and harmonized airs, can doubt which style is more easily taught; and even where there is no experience to guide, reason alone can determine the matter.

J. Alfred Novello, London and New York.

FIFTY METRICAL ANTHEMS,

FOR THE USE OF SMALL CHOIRS;

Consisting of Short Anthems, Choruses, and other Choral Movements, set to words taken from
"PSALMS FOR PUBLIC WORSHIP,"

Published by the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge. With an Accompaniment for the

ORGAN OR HARMONIUM,

Adapted and arranged by the

REV. J. POWELL METCALFE,

AUTHOR OF THE "SCHOOL ROUND-BOOK."

P R E F A C E.

THE pieces contained in this book were collected and arranged for the purpose of supplying a small country church with fit and appropriate Anthems, devotional in character, sound in composition, yet such as might be readily learnt by the choir, and easily understood by the congregation.

The reason for adapting them to the Metrical Psalms was twofold,—firstly, to make a short piece, by repetition, according to the verses, long enough for use—secondly, to render Anthem-Music available without the introduction of a separate Anthem-book.

The collection has been found to answer well in the place for the use of which it was made; it is now published in the hope that it may be found equally useful in supplying fitting Anthems in other small "places where they sing."

The words are taken from the Psalm-book of the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge; but other words of the same measure may be used,—provided they be such as suit the character of the music.

Where the Composer has not written any Symphonies, the liberty has been taken of adding a few introductory bars from the piece itself, for the purpose of bringing the tune about to be sung, and its key, to the minds of the singers.

The order of sequence, to a certain degree, is according to relative difficulty.

Though published especially for the use of small choirs, it is hoped that these little Anthems may not be unacceptable in those families where the practice of Sacred Part-Singing forms one of the exercises of the Sunday evening.

In conclusion, should any one recognize in the following pages a well-known favourite in what he may deem a state of unjustifiable curtailment, let him be assured that such curtailment by no means results from want of due appreciation of his old friend: General usefulness has been the one great object in view in the following arrangements; and if a portion only of a piece has been introduced, the remainder has been omitted from the feeling that it was unsuited to the purpose of the Collection.

Bilbrough, near York, 1858.
